

Which God is he referring to?

President Obama tells the biggest provider of abortions in the US: "God bless you"? We wonder which god he refers to? And all is done in the name of women's health and well-being. This is how far the apostasy coming from the west has reached - a society void of any Christianity, in which the concept of sin does not exist for any practical purposes, and the meaning of repentance has disappeared. Who is going to provide spiritual healthcare to this sick society, and not promote abortion as women's healthcare and well-being? (also see this recent post)

Indeed there is no restraint left in the world to hold the lawlessness in check.
How long is God going to endure these abominations before His judgement comes?
